

Harness Cybersecurity - Drive Business Growth

Security is the #1 priority for organizations of every size and industry. There is a significant increase in the number cyber-attacks year over year and the threats and attackers are becoming more sophisticated and elusive. The rate of change required for security innovation makes it difficult for most organizations to keep up with the deployment and managed of their environments. Even more of a challenge for small business that are often faced with budget constraints; inadequate or no IT staffing and shortage of security skills.

If you are an organization with these challenges, security and keeping your business protected is most likely the major thing keeping you up at night. You really need a dedicated team of security experts to continuously monitor your network, identify potential threats, and take the right steps to quickly prevent them – before irrevocable damage is done.

End to End Security

Vital™ Managed Security Service focuses on all aspects of IT security, including data, network and endpoint security, advanced threat intelligence and prevention, reporting and forensics, and remote access – everything you need to gain complete IT security.

To ensure maximum protection against internal and external threats, we proactively set real-time alerts to detect anomalous user or device behavior, which can often be the first sign of attempted breaches, ransomware, or other threats. We also monitor and analyze your security logs using sophisticated business rules to determine which alerts should be investigated and if new alerts should be created.

In addition, our real-time security intelligence feeds give you the real-time security intelligence needed to identify emerging threat signatures, viruses, and outbreaks and give you maximum visibility into regional and global trends. All of this enables us to take proactive steps to remediate possible breaches as quickly as possible – before it's too late.

Vital™ Managed Security Service leverages Check Point Secure Endpoint and Check Point Next Generation Firewall solutions to provide you the right solution to meet your specific security needs; Vital™ Managed Secure Endpoints and Vital™ Managed Firewall as a Service.
